They have an 8 week training program. Having the CDL will be helpful in obtaining a driving position but you still have to go through their 8 week class. They are also very concerned with customer service skills so that will be critical in their decision. If they do not have any openings put in an application they keep them on file for 6 months if positions open up. Email to pcollins@psta.net and tell her you are our student and request she contact you when they are starting another class and note you have put in an application.

The training starts out at $10 but within 5 years the wage goes up to $20.59.

Rooms to Go
