ABOUT US

Largo Middle School's international studies programme includes advanced and rigorous course work while encouraging students to become critical, reflective thinkers and creative problem-solvers. Within the international framework and philosophy students develop an intercultural understanding by exploring real world issues and how these events affect them and the world globally while simultaneously learning the Florida standards. Using the inquiry framework students learn and develop skills that will promote success in a 21st century global environment and foster a sense of caring and community service.

Subject groups are integrated through the global contexts that provide a framework for learning within and across the subjects. The interdisciplinary nature of this international curriculum helps students build a strong foundation for responsibility and citizenship at the national and global level, encouraging reflective practice that inspires active and responsible participation in their communities.

Our interdisciplinary approach emphasizes connections between traditional subjects and the real world. This provides opportunities for individual and collaborative planning and research among students and teachers alike, guiding students to monitor and direct their own learning through effective decision making, goal setting and time management. Throughout the coursework students are challenged to solve problems through critical thinking and reasoning skills, show creativity and resourcefulness, and value the importance of lifelong learning.
