Dear Eagle Families,

Back to School Night is almost here! This year it will be held virtually on September 30th. To attend the Back to School Virtual night, please sign onto Canvas with your child's credentials or as an observer. In order to access Canvas you can log in with your child's credentials or you can be an "observer" to the class. This means that you will be able to log in and view assignments/information.

If you want to be added as an observer to your child's canvas account, please watch the attached video and/or view the attached document for instructions.

While the attached documents indicate being for MyPCS online, this process can be completed for any parent, regardless of their child's learning option. Meaning, even if your child is a face to face student, you will also attend the back to school event virtually through Canvas.

This video can be viewed after every class. Each video provides important information about each of your student's classes as well as the teacher's expectations for your students in their class.

Free and Reduced Lunch Option

We are trying diligently to make sure our students are taken care of for this school year and for their future! On October 6th some of our students will fall off of the FREE or REDUCED lunch status. With help from guidance, we have been trying to contact the last group of students who did not resubmit a new application for the school. Please make sure the students receive this letter and if the student is a PCSOnline please communicate this privately to them, if at all possible. This status help them to get FREE SAT and ACT testing and a lot rides on this status for College Scholarships!
