VIKING LOG STAFF PICKS THEME

ANNE BRADLEY HEADS ANNUAL STAFF

Annual To Have Sea Setting

With the theme of "Sun, Sand, and Surf," the annual work has been mostly in the hands of the art staff, headed by La Von Pierson. These students (the art staff) have been making dummy layouts for different pages and also are collecting art material pertaining to the theme.

The literary staff, under the supervision and direction of Bob Whitaker, has been busy compiling information about the teachers and seniors. They have also been studying different phraseology, of all copy, in the book to make it more interesting and informative.

Patt Thomas is Business Manager of the Log, and last Friday October 19, treasurers were established in all homerooms and are ready to begin taking orders for the Log.

Since the aim of the staff this year is to have more pictures than ever in our book, photographers Bill Tobias and Dan McLaren are seen at various times during the day taking candid shots of school life. Pictures concerning last year's prom are also requested to be brought into room A-5 by any seniors who might have them. Anne Bradley, editor-in-chief, works hard to sort these materials and decide which should be put into the Log.

Senior superlative ballots will be handed out soon, and those pages are to be taken with a beach background.

Honor Roll and Dean's List Announced

The following students have started the new school term off with a bang by achieving the honor of receiving admission on the Honor roll and Dean's list for the first six weeks.

Science Plays Important Part At Northeast

Recent years have seen the rise of emphasis on the story of science subjects in industry, transportation, communication and public relations, (especially in relations with foreign countries.) Skilled scientists are in ever increasing demand. Northeast High School, in tireless efforts to provide well rounded courses in the sciences has one of Florida's most modern high school science departments. Under the leadership of Mr. Walter Swan the department offers both comprehensive and specialized courses for students from grades nine through twelve.

Ninth graders are introduced into general science, a survey course, designed to present the subject in such a way as to stimulate the student's interest. It aims to create a desire to study the more specialized areas of the subject. With teachers William Wright, George Raymond and John Staley, in charge of classes, students are helped to understand the physical world in which they live.

When pupils reach their sophomore year biology is offered with Mrs. Mary Evans, Mr. Frank Bowles, and Mr. George Raymond teaching the subject. Their students are provided with the opportunity to become acquainted with the characteristics, homes, and activities of living organisms from simple plants to the human body.

Juniors and seniors have a wider selection of subjects. Those who are interested in science but do not wish to specialize may elect physical science. Under the instruction of Mr. Kenneth Pschorr, those in the physical science course study the composition of the atmosphere, fuel, forces, astronomy, and atomic energy. Stud-

Back To School Night Set For December 13

Tuesday, November 13, our parents are invited to attend Back-to-School night at 7:45 p. m. After arriving at school, they will go to the auditorium, where they will be given their child's schedule.

They will then proceed to the various classes for a few minutes. The teachers will tell briefly what they are trying to accomplish in their particular subject this year, and many will show examples of work having been done in their class.

In charge of the evening's activities is Mr. Robert L. Root, whose main job is to make certain all teachers have sufficient literature pertaining to their subjects.

Refreshments will be served following the departure from the sixth period class. All parents are urged to attend.

EDITORIALS

"Oh, I wish I were older." How many times I have said, or other young people have said, somethings similar to this phrase. Do we actually realize what we are saying, realize we are wanting to leave that precious age in life—youth?

Children seem to grow up so fast during these modern times. This is extremely apparent in the styles of clothes—suits and belts for little two and three year old girls; lipstick and high heels are not uncommon for eleven and twelve year olds. Every year children grow to maturity at an earlier age.

Youth, and the activities and good times which accompany it, can be attained only once during our lifetime, both from a physical and mental standpoint. We should cleave to all the wonderful things that make up our youth, beach parties, weekend house parties, and school life. Yes, I think school life and school activities are an essential and wonderful part of growing up.

When we graduate, (some from high school, other more fortunate students, from college), we leave forever the fun-filled class parties, the junior-senior proms, athletic activities, the fellowship of being with girlfriends and boyfriends, and the hard work we spend in clubs, last minute float decorating, cheerleading, playing in the band, or meeting a newspaper deadline. We also leave behind both joyous and sorrowful election memories, of class superlatives, class offices, or homecoming queens. How can young people destroy these happy youthful days by trying to reach complete maturity in high school by drinking, doing immoral "grown-up" things, or getting married?

Getting married and raising children is a great thing to look forward to. It, also, is a wonderful time on our lives, but that time will come. We are now teen-agers—let's enjoy our youth while it lasts.

Are we unloyal to our school, unpatriotic to our country? The recent, "I Speak for Democracy" contest would certainly tend to prove we are.

It was surely pitiful when only three students from Northeast competed against one another before choosing a winner to enter city competition. Originally, we had seven (isn't that terrific?) students in the contest, but four dropped out.

Even though the preparation time was short, we should have had more entries. The other schools in the city were notified when we were, but they had thirty and forty contestants.

Are we unwilling to enter a contest of this kind because it takes a little work, a little time? Do you have a good reason for not having entered? Not only would you have represented your school, but your country, your community, and your family.

That contest is in the past now, but we may redeem ourselves in the future. Several speech and essay contests are coming up soon; let's prove to other city schools, our own faculty, and to ourselves that we have what it takes to enter these contests.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

In the October 19 edition of the Nor'easter, there was an editorial which disgusted me. It was entitled "We Need More 'Real' Dads." That was the meanest, most unfair piece of prose I've ever read. To state that most fathers pay too little attention to their children is so completely bigoted, it shocks me. My own dad is the world's best! He works all day long so I can go to school, be active in clubs, and have decent clothes to wear. He does without a good many things so I can have a few luxuries. I'm fairly certain that the majority of fathers, not only of NHS students, but of kids all over the country, are of the same, wonderful calibre.

Sure, I'll agree some fathers are mean; but they are not as great in number as the author of that editorial indicated. Furthermore, most fellows and girls who complain about their parents being too mean or strict don't take the time to try and understand their parents' problems. Our moms and dads live in a world of hard work. So many of them had to do without so many things when they were kids, they're determined that we should have the things they did without. Is that any reason to condemn them? Hardly.

So, may I suggest that instead of condemning our dads for not doing enough for us, we should try to understand their problems, and perhaps help them out a little? More than material aid, suppose we just show a bit of love and kindness toward them. By showing some affection for our parents we can easily gain their respect; they will not only act differently toward us, but we'll be better, more adult people.

All Citizens Are Urged To Vote

November 6, 1956—That's a big day, or at least should be for everyone. This is the day chosen out of every 4 years to vote for the leading men and women in our country. As I was listening to one of the candidates for president the other night, I just wondered how many people would be at the polls on November 6.

Most people don't realize the importance of voting. Voting is a privilege and opportunity, and everyone should consider it as such. On the morning of November 6, if you, along with several others should decide not to bother about voting, where would America be today?

The wonderful people striving to lead our great country right wouldn't be of any value if there weren't votes to back them up. This, along with many other reasons, should be enough to make all free Americans realize their duty to their country in voting.

In some parts of the world, certain men "lead the people," that is to say they tell them what to do, when and how to do it. They don't in the United States. So, always remember, Americans are given the right to vote and should, at least, to show their gratitude for it, go to the polls and choose the man they think will do the best job.

Anyone who doesn't vote can honestly be called un-patriotic to his country and his fellow man.

Set your conscience free, be loyal to your country, and fellow men; go and vote!

Tomlinson Teaches Variety Of Courses

Want to get a good foundation for your vocation without going to college? Well, Tomlinson is the place for you. Here are just a few of it's many possibilities.

For girls there are such things as Business Education, Advanced Bookkeeping and Accounting, and a nine month Cosmetology course that means "Beauty Culture".

In the business line they not only have the main subjects of typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, accounting, etc., but also the use of about every kind of business machine.

Now you boys who would like to go into printing, photography, or be a radio-television technician or a draftsman, may also go to Tomlinson. They not only have the few courses mentioned but many others besides. In fact they have ten or eleven shops down there for you. And if you want to be sure of a job before finishing your course, Tomlinson is just the place for you.

It is also possible for you to take your high school and vocational training at the same time. But unless you have a good reason it is not recommended.

If you girls or your mothers would like to take some short courses at night instead of long courses, Tomlinson is again recommended. Some of the short courses are selling, gift wrapping, flower arrangements, cooking, sewing, etc. You can get these for a tuition fee of only $1 per six weeks.

So if you need vocational training but not college, we ask you to look into Tomlinson as a possibility.

Time For Reservations Ends Soon

Leaving in June, 1957, will be twenty-five lucky students, personally chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Sexton, to tour Europe. This is St. Pete's second student tour of Europe.

All expenses from St. Petersburg and returning will be $1050.00, (subject to change). Reservations will be accepted up to November 15 with a deposit of $100. Less will be accepted.

Students from neighboring cities planning to make the trip are from four other cities. There are six from Plant City, two from Bradenton, one from Sarasota, and one from Clearwater. Also there are students from the three city high schools.

For more details see Mr. Sexton or Travel Consultants at the Rutland Building.

"I Speak For Democracy" Contestants

Jr. Chamber of Commerce Sponsors Democracy Contest

"I speak for democracy." Monday, October 21, three Northeast students were speaking for Democracy. Three weeks ago, it was announced for everyone wishing to enter the school competition to sign up with Mr. Eric Whitted.

Originally seven students were competing for the Northeast title, but by judging day, the field had narrowed to three. Billie Louise Codington, John Eaddy, and Glenda Powers competed against one another. Judging the contest were Mr. Robert Challenger, Mr. Douglas Taylor, and Mr. Paul Jenkins, who chose Glenda Powers the winner.

Glenda competed against students from St. Pete, Boca Ciega, Gibbs, St. Pauls, and Bishop Barry for the city title. Jeannie Snyder, from St. Pauls was rated tops from St. Petersburg and will enter state competition.

Activities Planned By City Rivals

Future plans for special activities at Boca Ciega include their homecoming game in which they will oppose Northeast. They're really going at things in a big way. The girls of the Tri-Hi-Y are busy making "mums" and many other things to sell for this spectacular game.

Another important event on the Boca Ciega schedule is their production of "The Song of Norway". The students, under the leadership of Miss Baker of Boca Ciega's Choral Department, have been rehearsing since school started, and looking back on their past record of musical hits (Finnigan's Rainbow and "Brigadoon"), "The Song of Norway" should be quite a sensation.

St. Pete High has also been busy planning their homecoming game with Sarasota, which was October 27. All the clubs frantically searched for good ideas to use as themes on their floats. Their homecoming dance was held at the Y.W.C.A. immediately following. A dance, held October 27, was their annual Harvest Ball. This dance was sponsored by the senior class and all the students worked hard to make it a big success.

Class Pictures Taken Recently

During the week of October 16, pictures of seniors were taken in their white graduation gowns. Phil Graham took four different poses of the individual seniors. His studio is located at 3914-5th Avenue North. The proofs will be returned during the first week of November for a fee of $1 which apply toward any order over $5.

Pictures of the underclassmen were taken by Kirkham Studios at 5545-76th Avenue North. They were taken in the order of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen during the week of October 16. The photographers stated that approximately 1,300 underclassmen were photographed. Students will receive their proofs the second or third week of November.

All pictures were taken in the auditorium.

Mrs. Brown Leaves Ne-Hi

Much to our regret, our very capable and friendly secretary, Mrs. Ruth Brown, is leaving Northeast to join the staff of Tomlinson Vocational School. October 31 marks the last day of her service in the office of our school.

During the two years she has been with us, she has made many friends among the students and faculty.

"Many students have shared their disappointments and successes with me," said Mrs. Brown, "and I shall miss the many friends I have made."

No replacement for her has been announced as yet.

Our loss is Tomlinson's gain. All the luck in the world, Mrs. Brown! Come back and see us!

Skirts 'nd Sports

The Northeast High Girl's Volleyball Team has had a perfect record so far this season with both A and B Varsity winning all of their first three games.

The first game against Clearwater was played in the Northeast gym. The "A" team (Jerry Day, Barbara Monroe, Sandra Creitz, Helen Leigh, Marilyn Marshick, Helen Moore, Mary Lee Hudson, Trudy Andringa, Henrietta Kelly, Betty Myers, and Jean Hardy), won their game 34-8.

The "B" team, (Myrtle Badger, Nancy Huff, Cathy Ethridge, Linda Madieras, Judy Reinhardt, Norma Norris, Sue Sprague, Judy Baker, Pat Williams, Carolyn Bagg, and Cecile Parker), enjoyed a 38-16 victory. During the "A" team game, the first, the word "SPAGHETTI" was called as encouragement to the Clearwater team. When a member of the "B" team was questioned as to what is meant she explained that the Clearwater coach had promised all the players of the A and B teams spaghetti dinners if they won all of their games. Too bad (isn't it?) that Northeast had to ruin their hopes so early in the season.

Ne-Hi's Football Team Has Tough Breaks

The Vikings' first game was against the Tarpon Springs Spongers. Four thousand turned out to see Northeast defeated 19-0. Tarpon scored twice on Vike's mental errors.

Northeast, still on its feet and determined to fight each and every game, attacked the Hillsborough Terriers. Another game proved fatal with a score of 25-0.

Losing two games in a row didn't upset the strong minded Vikings. Leaving home ground, the band, cheerleaders, and fans yelled the boys on to victory with a Northeast 27-0 win. Everybody was too excited that night to catch any beauty sleep because Northeast had downed the Clearwater Tornados.

Victory still ringing in their heads the boys got put back in the dungeon by the Jefferson Dragons. Being Northeast's homecoming, everyone went out with a heart full of spirit and excitement. The parade, dance, and other festivities were ones to remember, and the game, being one of those fiendish heart-breakers, was not one to be forgotten. The mad fight between Vikings and Dragons ended in a battle of 8-7. "So close and yet so far."

The Vikings then set sail southeast to the land of the Hurricanes. The top-notch Manatee Hurricanes overpowered the weak sailing Vikings with a 41-0 win. The Viking ship was minus a few of its crew. Butch Stewart, fullback, was out with an injured knee, having been hurt in the Jefferson game.

Basketball Begins In Near Future

All boys interested in playing freshmen, junior varsity, or varsity basketball, report to Coach Benjamin in the gym after fifth or sixth periods, November 7.

Instructions will be given at this time regarding birth certificates and physical exams. Basketball practice will begin November 15, according to Western Conference regulations.

Football players will report after the close of the football season, and it will not be necessary for them to report to this meeting.

The "A" team beat St. Petersburg High by a score of 22-12 while the "B" team won 29-11.

Have you ever counted the rooters and fans at one of our football games? Too many to count!

Have you ever counted the numbers of rooters and fans at one of the Girls volleyball games? A child in the Kindergarten could count to this number! Five at the most.

Why don't you come out and support our volleyball team?????

Also hurt in the Jefferson game was quarterback Doug Hotalen. Being determined to go on he played in the Manatee game getting hurt again and being put out for the rest of the season with a fractured knee. Stan Neri, hurt in the Jefferson game, was also missing.

Come on kids, get behind this great team and cheer them on to V I C T O R Y.

Vikings and Devils Clash On Gridiron Tonight

The Vikings and Devils clash tonight at 8 p.m. on Stewart Field in the Vikes' first inter-city game of the season. Both teams will be fighting for victory, the St. Petersburg Devils having already beaten Boca Ciega, and the Northeast Vikings trying to prove they're not an "also ran," (a) statement recently made in one of the local papers.)

Two years ago, St. Pete beat the Vikes 51-0, however, last year, we defeated St. Pete 12-0. They are surely looking for revenge, so the game is cracked up to be a battle all the way.

The Vikings will be in better

Jumping High

Sandy Creitz

"Are you ready? Yes! Are you ready? Yes!" This girl is always ready. She has as much pep, vivacity, and zest as any girl around. This bomb-shell was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on June 10, 1940.

If you would exchange places with her for one day you would find yourself in geometry, English III, Spanish I, American history, and advanced physical education. In her spare time (what spare time?) she is president of the junior class, a member of Keyettes, Tri-Hi-Y, and a cheerleader.

Better get out of her way if you don't yell at a game and have no school spirit for that heads her list of dislikes. This brown haired blue eyed doll likes cheering, dancing, the colors red and white, and one special guy with the initials of L. R.

Her one wish right now is "We beat St. Pete tonight" or she'll be singing the blues, and we wouldn't want that, would we.

Her most embarrassing moment occurred one night when she was dancing with Jim Parrish. Are you curious? Find out the details from Sandy.

"You all get with it" is her favorite expression, and she has done just that.

See 'Em Strut

Rose Cruz

We would like to introduce to you a little gal named Rose Marie Cruz, known to all of us as "Sis." She will always greet you in the hall by saying, "Hi, y'all."

"Sis" was born on May 12, 1940, in Key West, Florida. She attended Highland Park and Norwood Elementary schools in Key West. In St. Petersburg she has gone to Lealman Junior High and now attends Northeast.

Her likes include most foods, a black and white '56 Chevy, and most of all, being with an object 5'11" tall, blond hair, and blue eyes. Dislikes are people who pull rank, and homework.

Sis's schedule includes band, American history, public speaking, English III, Homemaking II, and commercial math.

Her activities are membership in Future Nurses' Club and being a Northeast majorette, which keeps her quite busy.

Having to wear a raincoat home from the Manatee-Northeast football game Sis claims was her most embarrassing moment.

Miss Cruz's plans for the future are to graduate from Northeast and to become a veterinarian.

Cmdr. Jackson Talks To Viking Boys

During the past week Northeast High School was honored by a visit from Lieutenant Commander Jackson of the United States Navy. The program took place November 1 in the audio-visual room, and boys from the junior and senior classes were invited to attend.

A film was shown on all branches of the services, and a musical film on the Navy was presented.

Representatives of the Navy, who are now attending Northeast, talked about the life of Navy servicemen. They also familiarized the boys with the Navy and encouraged them to become "citizen soldiers." The unit is located here in St. Petersburg.

Boys who wished to have a career in the Navy, eliminate their service obligation, or who were just interested attended the program and found it very entertaining and rewarding.

Turn Table Topics

Hi gang! This issue we are featuring Perry Como. Perry, who is married and has three children, lives in New York City, where every Saturday night from seven till eight p. m., he begins and ends his TV program with "Dream Along."

Perry, who was born in Pennsylvania, took right after his father, being a barber. But he became interested in singing and joined a small band, which took him out of town. Perry kept singing and joining new bands until he reached the top with his new RCA Victor hit release "Cincherase."

In his home town there is a street named Perry Como Ave.; this makes P. C. very proud.

I'm sure we will be hearing and seeing a lot of Mr. Como.

Some time ago, someone suggested that the top ten tunes of Ne-Hi be put in Turntable Topics, so here they are:

1. Singing the Blues
2. Love Me Tender
3. Anyway You Want Me
4. Brown Eyed Handsome Man
5. Green Door
6. Canadian Sunset
7. Walkin in the Rain
8. Cincerase
9. Friendly Persuasion
10. Too Much Monkey Business

Some songs that are not on the list, that are doing well are Fats Domino's "Blueberry Hill" and "Honey Chile" on the Imperial label.

Well, that's all till next time.

The Loud Mouth

Well, that's the way it is. I'm just that sort of person, just can't help gossiping. You know how it is.

Get this gang. Listed below are eligible old maids or widows and bachelor's phone numbers. If you men are interested in old maids or widows, try these phone numbers.

Now girls, if you're interested in a bachelor, why not try these phone numbers?

53-8141, 42-5222, 41-3561, 53-8943
Sorry if I can't give you the names, but why not give them a try?

It seems as though Bob Childress and Butch Stewart are two-timing a couple of Sandy's. At the homecoming dance it was overheard that Bob and Butch were responsible for taking a certain girl home. If not able to transport her home, they would hire a taxi. How did she get home, boys?

I hear you make a fine cheerleader "We Willie Hooks."

Was that Miss Tyler throwing peanuts down the tuba at the Clearwater game?

How did Judy Harlow hurt her leg at the Manatee game?

What's this about something out the car window?

Dating now are Gayle Lovejoy and Irvin Keenan.

Barbara Bowman and Marvin Grant are now going steady.

We also hear that Luanne and Jerry are now going steady, too! Good luck to you both!

The Loud Mouth has just about been talked out for this issue. Keep the news coming and we'll see ya' all next week!

Talent Selected For Halloween Program

Hi gang! Wasn't that a great talent program October 25. The student council sponsored it and all the contestants, which were Tom Larson, Joy Purdu, Dottie Turner, Janice Harrison, Ruth Shelton, and Martha Calvert volunteered. The winner, who was Martha Jane Calvert, better known as Marty, went to Al Lang Field Halloween night. There she competed against winners from the high schools and Junior College. The winner of this program won a $75 prize for his school, and was the floor show for the dance at the coliseum.

The student council made all this possible, with the help of Judy May, Mike Craft, Barbara Wells, and the student council social committee.

NE-HI NOTABLES

This week the Nor'easter wind blows toward Stanley Sattinger, who was born in Liberty, New York, on April 3, 1940.

Stanley claims that physics, and the colors yellow and black really blow towards his likes. But also included are root beer, charcoal broiled steaks, skating, swimming, and listening to music. Put a pokey driver or a person who doesn't support school activities, and he won't smile—that's for sure!

"No kidding," is a likely expression to be heard by this six-foot blue-eyed boy, but heard more might be his favorite record, "Green Door."

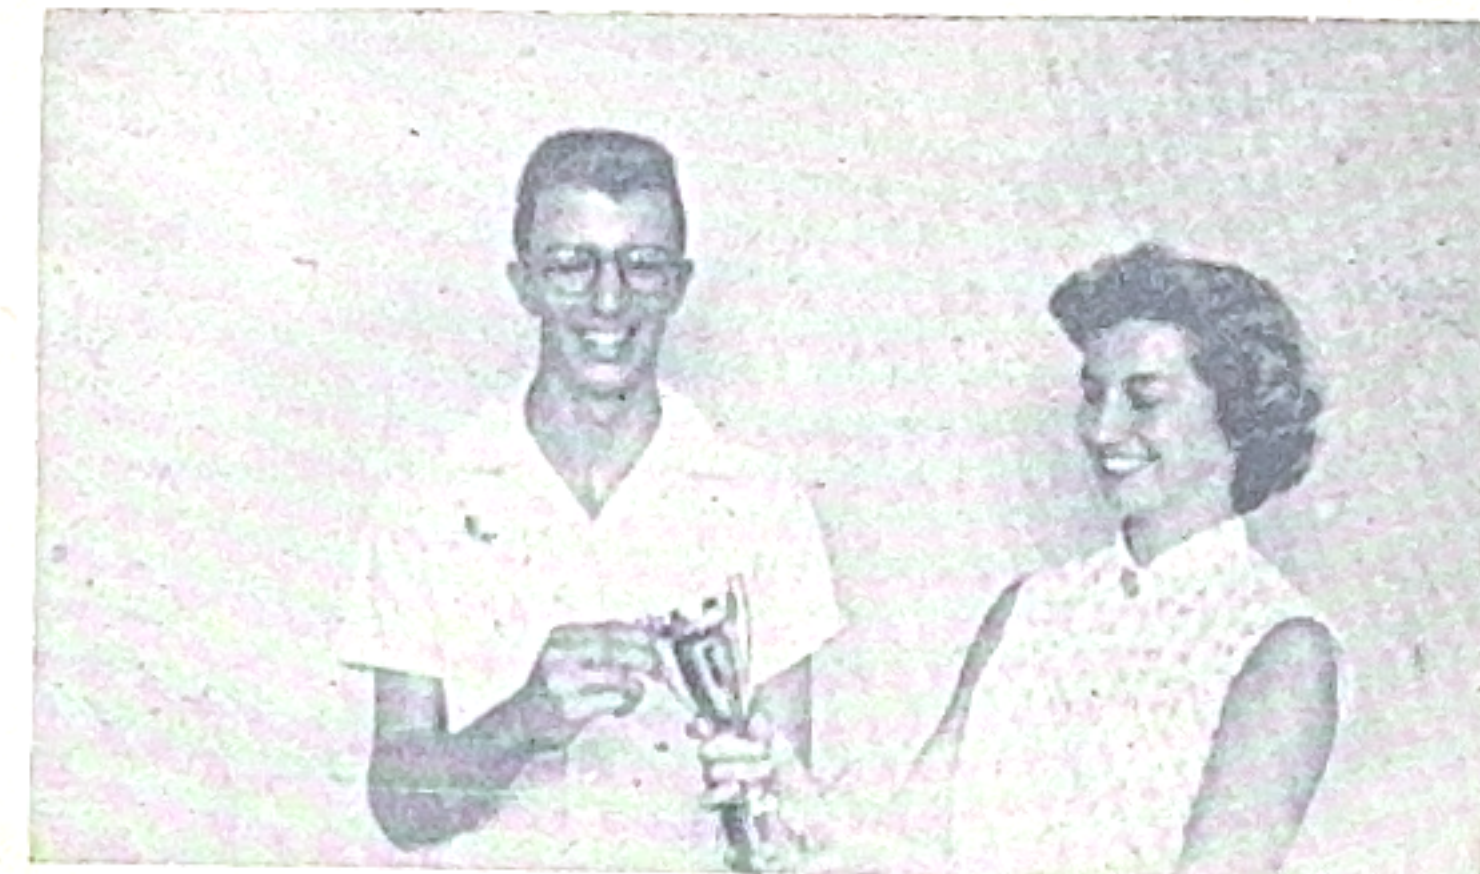

The movie "Picnic" ranks on the very top of Stan's favorite shows, while Jane Wyman and Jim Stuart are his favorite movie stars.

The only thing Stan would say about his most embarrassing moment is that it involved his motor scooter and a certain gal.

NE-HI NOTABLES

Stanley Sattinger

Jean Haeseker

However, he failed to mention her name. Maybe if you ask him, he'll tell you.

Being an escort at homecoming proved to be his most exciting moment.

Just out of curiosity he was asked about what he would wish for if one wish were to be granted him. His first reply was; "I'd like to be a . . . gee I don't know. I wouldn't want to be Elvis Presley—never." He later told that he wished Northeast would become known as the best school in the country.

With a hard schedule of physics, trigonometry, Senior Social Studies, English IV, and Mechanical Drawing II, Stanley still finds time to be president of Science and Engineering Club, vice-president of Jr. Civitan, Student Council senator, and be on a senior class committee.

The wind will be blowing with Stanley to Georgia Tech next year to study Aeronautical Engineering, where we hope he will fly to success.

Also in the direction of the wind is Jean Haeseker. Jean, who was born on June 17, 1939, claimed her favorite colors are red and white. The movie "Love is a Many Splendored Thing" is her favorite movie, while "Love Me Tender" and "Friendly Persuasion" are her favorite records. James Dean and Janet Leigh are her top-rating movie stars.

Also included in her likes are '56 Lincoln convertibles, water skiing, football games, and a certain "safety." (You'll have to ask her about that "safety," maybe she'll explain!) Jr. English was her favorite subject.

"My sakes" might well be heard if you set french fried onions, lime freezes, or apple cider before Jean.

For some unknown reason she claimed a certain street light was a dislike, in addition to people who have no school spirit, piles of homework, and those awful creatures—frogs.

The 5' 7" blond haired girl was at her most exciting moment when she was elected as the homecoming queen for 1956.

Jean's schedule consists of chemistry, trigonometry, typing II, shorthand I, and English IV.

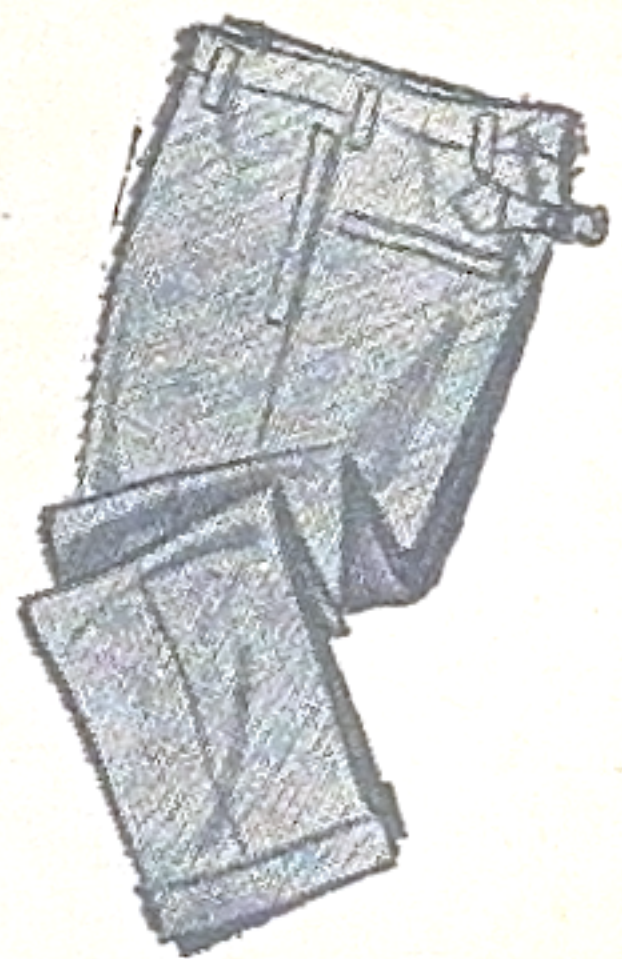

Even with a difficult schedule, Jean is president of National Honor Society, secretary of Keyettes, and plays varsity volleyball.

When asked what wish she would want to come true she replied, "I would wish that all my other wishes come true."

We certainly hope that they do come true to a wonderful girl who deserves it.

The wind will be following Jean to Gainesville next year in hopes that she will be as successful as she has been at Northeast.

SCIENCE

ents learn a great deal in many subjects.

Mr. Pschorr also leads a physiology class. Here students study the human anatomy. This is a requirement for study in nursing, medicine, laboratory analogy and x-ray.

In physics, Mr. Walter Swan provides the opportunity to put mathematics to work in learning about the basic physical laws of nature.

Chemistry, also taught by Mr. Swan, offers a course of basic study and laboratory practice to introduce the student to those subjects he will encounter in college in studying medicine, nursing, engineering, home economics, and agriculture. For those who do not plan on attending college, chemistry gives a general knowledge of how chemicals affect our everyday lives.

The science students are fortunate to have available for their use a varied assortment of intricate equipment. This equipment includes almost everything from simple lenses and microscopes, to ovens, skeletons, assorted weights and balances, some accurate to one-ten thousandth of a gram. The physics class even has a geiger counter for use in its study of atomic energy.

In case of an emergency, first aid kits, a carbon dioxide fire extinguisher, and a chemically treated fire blanket are in constant readiness. As yet, however, no emergency (namely an explosion of some kind) has occurred.

Students who use the equipment of the science department are taking another important step towards life in our modern civilization to prepare themselves to handle larger, more complicated pieces of machinery which they will need in an increasingly-technical civilization in which a well-trained layman must use the same types of equipment only an expert could handle twenty years ago. For instance, to work in radio, television, or electronics, a person must be somewhat of a jack-of-all trades, knowing how to operate many types of technical machinery.

Although science as a career increases yearly in popularity, two areas of the field are all too often overlooked. To train scientists, competent, well-trained men and women are needed to teach them. Perhaps many people forget about one of the most important jobs of all—writing. Writers are needed to interpret technical reports and bulletins into terms which the layman can understand. Without them even citizens in our democratic country would be left completely in the dark as to what is happening each day in the world of science.

All in all, Northeast High School's modern science department, with its exceptionally well-qualified teachers is doing an excellent job in helping teenagers become potential doctors, scientists, farmers, engineers, and home-makers. Students and parents alike can be certain that when a pupil graduates from Northeast science course, he will have training acceptable in any college or chemical laboratory in the state. Graduates who have majored in science are wanted by many schools as far away as Yale University in New Haven, Connecticut. With such an exceptionally good source, any qualified student is fortunate to have the opportunity to study in the Northeast High School department.

Band Notes

As many of you know, Mr. Beeman hopes to have a full fledged orchestra in two years. However, there is an urgent need for violins! Donations will be publicly acknowledged. Look in your closets and attics; ask all your relatives. All efforts will be greatly appreciated.

From what we hear, the students have a "ball" on those band trips. They are always singing songs and chanting cheers. The bus drivers really have to put up with "murder".

The next trip out of town will be to Sarasota. All the senior members will be sad, because this will be their last football trip, at least here at Northeast.

Seniors on Honor Roll—Susan Anio, Shirley Atkins, John Bagg, Lee Baynard, Carol Berg, Constance Brown, Michael Craft, Deanne Hagan, Judy Harlow, Richard Hazlett, Sandra Hedden, Edith Heiser, Janet Heitfield, Mary Lee Hudson, Deanna Jones, William Kessler, Nancy Lackey, Gail Long, Robert Miller, Judith Moore, James Muncy, Jimmy Nail, Sandra Pellerin, Joan Puryear, Kenneth Renner, JoAnn Roos, Stanley Sattinger, Esther Van Hart, Ellen Van Nest, Robert Whitaker, Shirley Wilson, Diane Woods, Darlene Furman.
