

Cultural Competence Self-Reflection Survey

	I haven't really thought about this.	I have thought about this, but I want to learn more.	I am intentionally working on this.	This is a consistent part of my professional practice.
I am deeply committed to demonstrating cultural competence in my professional practice.
I value and seek out diverse perspectives in my decision making.
I cultivate trust through mutually respectful relationships with colleagues, students, families, and the community.
I respect the deep-rooted understanding that families and members of the community have about the strengths and needs of their children.
I establish and implement processes and practices that are inclusive, especially for those who are often not engaged or excluded.
I leverage collaborations with people of diverse backgrounds and perspectives to identify innovative and effective approaches.
I advocate and implement actions and decisions that promote cultural responsiveness.
I acknowledge and incorporate the unique funds of knowledge, strengths, and perspectives of diverse people to enhance and inform my decision-making.
