Good afternoon, IB families,

We are almost at the mid-point for the first grading period so teachers will begin sending progress reports towards the end of next week for students that are currently struggling in a given course. Actions taken with students that receive a mid-term report from one or more classes will align with the academic guidelines for the program so we may be proactive to take action and/or develop a plan to promote academic success in the future and make any necessary improvements. If a student is currently struggling, please tell the student to talk with the teacher, and meet individually if necessary, to develop specific action steps that meet the student's needs and will help them improve the last half of the grading period.

Juniors and senior students have their individual advising assignments and those assignments are now displayed in Managebac. Please remind junior and senior students to check Managebac frequently as their advisors will be sending information, including their meeting schedule, by next week.

Senior parents: There will be a virtual college student panel next week and future virtual college fair available for all Pinellas County Schools students on October 5 from 6-8pm. Mrs. Johnson has posted the information and flyers on Managebac for all senior students. These are great opportunities available for our students so we highly encourage them to attend if possible.

As always, if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to the teachers, Mrs. Johnson or myself.

Have a great weekend,

Anthony Bryant
