Department of Graduate Studies in Education -- Masters options – All recently updated by practitioners for practitioners!

MED in Educational Leadership: 30 hour program that is designed to get teachers ready to be administrators. The state approved program leads directly to educational leadership in Florida once students pass the FELE. This program is also available in the multistate version which will provide a masters in educational leadership without the requirement of taking the Florida test. Students in this program are provided free FELE prep sessions and individual FELE tutoring as needed. Those who are catholic educators also are provided additional resources that will help them with the differences in the way private and parochial schools are managed. Applicants in the state approved program must have at least 3 years of teaching experience per DOE guidelines and a highly qualified on-site mentor.

MED in Teacher Leadership (Instructional Leadership): 30 hour program that prepares teachers who do not want to leave the classroom to become teacher leaders. In this program teachers hone their pedagogical craft while learning coaching and mentoring skills.

MED in Reading Leadership (Instructional Leadership / Reading): 30 hour program that is attractive to teachers who want to grow as teacher leaders and gain greater expertise in the area of reading instruction. Graduates from this program can earn the reading endorsement for Florida.

MED in ESE Leadership (Instructional Leadership / ESE): 30 hour program that is attractive to teachers who want to grow as teacher leaders and gain greater expertise in the area of ESE.

MS Instructional Design: 36 hour program that prepares students to be instructional designers and support learning design initiatives in all fields. While some participants are educators, many are from corporate and military backgrounds.

Education Specialist, Educational Leadership: 36 hour program that will lead directly into the EDD for those interested. This program extends the learning regarding leadership and its impact on systems and organizations. While this can have a K-12 focus, it is open to those in other organizations and assignments are adjusted to make the learning meaningful and relevant to all. NISL completers will receive 9 transfer credits.

Doctor of Education, School Leadership: 21 hours above the Ed.S. (total of 57 credits) that take students into the realm of action research. By conducting research within their own organizations, the students grow personally and professionally and the organization benefits as well. This program provides a unique and supportive approach to the dissertation phase to enhance student success and degree completion. This low residency program has a 1 week residency on campus that occurs in the second year of the program during the month of July. NISL completers will receive 9 transfer credits.
