Clayton Deleu – Elementary School Orchestra

Clayton Deleu is an accomplished violist who started playing viola at the age of 11 at a large public school in Orlando. He continued playing and developing his pedagogical skills which led to him being accepted into the viola studio at the University of South Florida. Clayton received his bachelor's in music education from USF and began teaching in Pinellas County. He currently serves as the Orchestra Director at Thurgood Marshall Fundamental Middle School and James B. Sanderlin K-8 IB World School. In addition to his rigorous teaching schedule, Mr. Deleu successfully created and implemented the strings program at Sanderlin, taught for the Sarasota Youth Orchestra, and was an adjunct strings instructor for the School District of Manatee County's summer orchestra camp. Along with his involvement in this year's All County Elementary Orchestra here in Pinellas county, Clayton was also the clinician for this year's Middle School All County Orchestra in Manatee County. Clayton's long-term goal is to continue his education and become a professional Orchestral conductor (hopefully with The Florida Orchestra).

Tosha A. Knibb – Middle School Orchestra

Tosha began her music career on the piano and quickly switched to violin. She attended New World School of the Arts for high school and studied violin under renowned artist and teacher, Thomas Moore. After graduating from NWSA, Ms. Knibb went on to continue her music studies at Florida State University in Tallahassee majoring in Instrumental Music Education. She is currently the Orchestra and Chorus Director at Sawgrass Springs Middle School and the director of Orchestra at Coral Glades High School. Ms. Knibb sits as District 15 Chair with the Florida Orchestra Association and adjudicates throughout the state.

Dr. Alexandra Dee – High School Orchestra

Dr. Alexandra Dee is the Director of Orchestral Activities in the Hayes School of Music at Appalachian State University and Music Director of the Asheville Symphony Youth Orchestra. She previously served on the faculties of Indiana University of Pennsylvania and the University of St. Francis (Joliet, IL). She was also music director and conductor of Chicago's South Loop Symphony Orchestra and has been a cover conductor for the Charlotte Symphony and the Joffrey Ballet, with whom she debuted in 2017 conducting the Chicago Philharmonic. Also at home in the opera pit, Dee has conducted productions with the Manitoba Underground Opera, IUP Music Department's Main Stage Productions, and Northwestern University Opera. She currently conducts performances with Appalachian Opera Theatre. Dee completed her doctoral studies in orchestral conducting at Northwestern University where she studied with Victor Yampolsky. She is also an alumna of the Florida State University College of Music, where she completed both Master of Music in orchestral conducting and Bachelor of Music Education degrees as a student of Dr. Alexander Jiménez. A consistent advocate for contemporary music, Dee has performed and premiered numerous works by living composers. In particular, she is a vigorous champion of the works of her husband, composer Roger Zare. She is active as a guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator.
