Dear Mildred Helms IB Families,

Welcome to the 2023-24 school year! We had an amazing start with our Meet & Greet and have continued to grow our learning community by welcoming new scholars, teachers, staff and community members. In our first month, our scholars are learning expectations, IB Learner Profile traits and focusing on developing academic and personal goals. We look forward to sharing all of this with you at our rescheduled Title I Annual Meeting and Open House on Wednesday, September 6th beginning at 5:30pm. Open House will have 2 sessions available to assist families.

Communication between home and school is vital. Please join Class Dojo with directions provided by your child’s teacher and check your child’s agenda daily. Log onto our school website to keep apprised of schoolwide information, events and calendars. Check out our school newsletters which include our monthly calendar, success stories, flyers for upcoming events and links to sites that support student enrichment through learning. School Messenger messages are sent out using information you entered in FOCUS. Ensure that your phone number and email address are updated and correct. Any changes can be made by parents online.

Attendance is critical to student success and includes students being on time to school. Gates open for all students at 8:35am and breakfast is available from 8:35am through 8:55am. Please ensure that if your child needs to eat, they arrive no later than 8:40am and they go directly to the café. We expect all students to be in class at 8:55am preparing for the day and morning announcements. The tardy bell rings at 9:00am at which time breakfast closes. Early release of students should only occur for emergencies or medical appointments only. All changes for dismissal plans are to be called into the front office prior to 2pm. Dismissal of students is completed at 3:10pm so please be on time to car circle and/or the walker’s gate.

Our first PTA General Meeting will be held on Thursday, September 7 prior to our Grandparents Night event. PTA will introduce their new Board members and share their ideas for the year. These two events will be held in the MHES Café. You may park in the new southwest lot or in the north parking lot and enter through the car circle gate. See the flyer for additional details.

Join us as a partner in your child’s education throughout the year. Together we can help all our scholars experience a successful 2023-24 school year. Thank you again for your support.

Respectfully yours,

Mrs. Brennan

Welcome to Our New Assistant Principal!

Hello! My name is Karris Cooper and I am thrilled to introduce myself as your new Assistant Principal. I am a proud graduate of the University of South Florida (Go Bulls!). I have been in education for over 9 years as a classroom teacher, a MTSS coach, and most recently a district MTSS coach for the School Climate & Behavior Team.

I firmly believe that strong partnerships between families, educators, and the school are vital for a child’s success. Together we can help our students achieve their goal and ensure their success. Communication is the key to our collaborative efforts. I am committed to listening to your feedback and celebrating the accomplishments of our students together. I am dedicated to fostering a positive school climate that promotes a love for learning. I am excited to meet everyone soon!

Please feel free to email me at: cooperkar@pcsb.org.

Join us for Open House!

Tips for Talking With Your Preschooler

If your child is participating in Voluntary Prekindergarten (VPK) or attending one of Florida's quality child care centers, help your child practice their language skills by encouraging them to talk about their new and exciting learning experiences.

The following are some suggestions to guide you in having meaningful conversations with your child:

- Ask open-ended questions: Avoid asking "yes" or "no" questions and encourage your child to elaborate on their answers by asking open-ended questions. For example, you could ask, "What did you enjoy the most at school today?"

- Actively listen: Give your child your full attention, maintain eye contact and avoid distractions that may interrupt the conversation. This is a great way to model active listening skills for your child.

- Use visual aids or props: Consider using props, such as school supplies, pictures or books about school to facilitate your talks with your child. These tangible items can spark their imagination and help them express their thoughts more easily.

- Role-play scenarios: Engage in pretend play where you and your child act out different situations they might encounter at school. This can include meeting new friends, participating in class activities or asking the teacher for help. Role-playing can boost your child's confidence and prepare them for challenging situations they may face at school.

- Keep communication ongoing: Continuously check in with your child and ask about their experiences, challenges and achievements at school. Not only will these ongoing conversations build on your child's language development but will also go a long way toward building a strong bond with your child.

Do you have questions about your child's development? Florida's Early Steps program provides early intervention services to children from birth until age three. These individualized services may take place in your home or school and include occupational, physical and speech therapies, hearing and vision services and more.

To find out more about eligibility and enrollment, visit the Florida Early Steps web page.
Use These Tips For a Successful School Year

A new school year is both a momentous occasion and one that can make parents and children experience some hesitation. Below are some tips to help both you and your child feel confident and in step together.

Communicate: Preschool programs usually notify parents about potential routines throughout the school day. Regularly read and share these routines with your child to boost their anticipation for the day.

Plan together: Work together to select clothes for the following day. This will also give you more opportunities to have meaningful conversations that build their developing language skills (see page 1, “Let’s Talk About It!”).

Establish a routine: Take time to plan and create a reasonable daily schedule that works for your family. This will help you and your child know what to expect, help them feel comfortable with their routine and environment and give them a sense of security.

Get to know your preschool: Now that your child is in preschool, your family has become part of a whole new community. Support your child’s future by asking about volunteer opportunities.

Friends and Family Can Support Your Child’s VPK Experience

Now that your child has started VPK, consider recruiting siblings, cousins or neighbors who are VPK alumni to help your child start talking and thinking about their upcoming adventure. Set up “an interview” and give your child these questions to ask:

- What did you like most about VPK?
- Was snack time or lunch a part of your day?
- Did you meet new friends?
- How often did you go outside to play?
- What types of things were in your classroom?

Once your child has settled into their new routine, use questions like these to spark important ongoing conversations. These conversations can take place after you pick them up at the end of the day, during dinner or at bedtime so they can start dreaming about the next day.
