A Message from Assistant Principal  Dr. Jennifer McCafferty

I hope you and your family had a restful and joyful winter holiday. We are back in high gear supporting your child's learning and we look forward to continuing to work with you to help your child reach his/her social, emotional, and academic goals.

If your child needs a Cycle 2 PMP, it will be sent home for a signature in the coming days. A PMP is a specific, detailed plan tailored to identify individual assistance that will be given to remedy a student's individually diagnosed deficiencies. The PMP is an active working document that reflects what is being done to help remediate a student's deficiencies.

Please let me know if you have any questions!

Last week for Girlfriends, our theme was "We are Calm." The girls started by filling out a checklist of their favorite coping skills. We defined coping skills as "What a person thinks or does to get through a difficult situation." Some of their favorites were "stroll through Target/TJ
Maxx/Home Goods/your favorite store with a drink from Starbucks," "walk the dog," sit by the water," "pet an animal," and "talk to a friend."

After discussing coping skills, the girls transitioned to making their own calming bottles. Our friends from the Hustle and Heart Realty Group helped supply the materials for the bottles and helped run the calming bottle assembly line. Each girl created her own unique calming bottle using a water bottle, clear glue, food coloring, and glitter. While waiting for their turn to create their bottle, they did coloring pages with coping skills on them and listened to relaxing music.

Stress is part of life, but I hope the girls learned that they don't have to fear stress as long as they have a toolbox full of ideas to manage it when it comes along.

How To Build Fluency with Poetry
Do you have a child(ren) with poor oral reading fluency? For example, their reading is slow, they frequently stop at unknown words. They lack expression when they read or struggle with decoding words. Fluency is the bridge from decoding words to comprehension, which is ultimately where children need to arrive at.
Research has shown that repeated reading of a text will improve oral reading fluency through the use of poetry. Poetry has melody, rhythm, pacing and pitch that supports fluency skills such as prosody, which is reading with expression.
Here are steps to follow to use poetry to build fluency at home.

1. Choose a short engaging poem.
2. You read the poem several times while your child listens and follows along.
3. Have your child read the poem with you several times. You can read it together line by line or you can read a line and your child can then repeat the same line.
4. Practice this poem with your child for several days or until you feel they are reading it fluently and then have them perform the poem to another person.
5. Put the poem in a folder for your child to go back and read at a later time.
6. Choose a new poem and follow the previous steps.

Remember, fluency will help your child with comprehension of a text.

SES Leadership Summit Representatives

On January $25^{\text {th }}$, Mrs. Sanders, Amya Auten, Lyla Aguillard, Owen Stancill, and Sebastian Rhage Hock, represented our school at Leadership Summit at USF.

We would like to thank all of our volunteers that helped make the Spring Book Fair a success. They helped to make sure everything was running smoothly and we are so appreciative of their help. If you are interested in volunteering at our school, please register at www.pcsb.org/volunteerregistration

Thank you to our PTA for purchasing the snacks for our Ready, Set...Kindergarten event.
There will be a PTA Board Meeting 6 pm in the Centennial Building. There will not be a PTA meeting in March due to Spring Break.

Please bring your photo ID when you come into the school office to sign out your student, check in for conferences, or to meet your student for lunch. Families can eat lunch with their student on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Our lost and found is overflowing with jackets. If your student has lost a jacket, please have them check our lost and found in the front office.

Clothes Closet

Please consider donating any gently used shorts to our clothes closet. We are still in need of shorts (sizes 6-14). You can bring donations to the front office.

Nurse Leslie's Clinic Minute

If you think that your child has an illness that can be spread to others, please keep them home from school. Students need to remain home if they have an oral temperature greater than 100 degrees or tympanic (ear) temperature greater than 99 degrees. Students can return to school when fever free for 24 hours without the use of fever reducing medication, such as Tylenol or Motrin.
